

SIMPLY STUNNING SCHOOLHOUSE

“ They have access to a tremendous selection of beautiful woods, stone finishes, and cupboard and drawer furniture. ”

This large kitchen in a converted schoolhouse needed an unusual approach. The owners wanted an eclectic look – using a diverse range of styles, shapes, sizes, colours and finishes.

The final result speaks for itself – an amazing, quirky and edgy design. From the black sink unit with its ornate mouldings to the oak and beech butcher's block, from the blue and cream solid wood cupboards with a mix of granite and wooden work tops to the more subtle free-standing furniture in the utility.

Top of the class in every respect!

“ We were struck immediately by their high standard of workmanship. ”

“ We wanted a timeless, free standing, eclectic look and they grasped the project with relish! ”
